Overview:

Explore the excerpts of original source documents listed within which are related to America's early founding and come to your own conclusion. References and Links are added to allow for further research.

United States was founded as a religious nation grounded upon the Bible, and not founded as a “pagan nation” (Latin, Paganus, that is, “a rustic villager” [those who worship local deities and animism]); neither founded as a “Deistic Nation” where God is absent and unavailable.

A Deist believes that God created the world, wound it up by natural forces, and then left and forever after remains completely uninvolved with His creation. A true “Deist would never pray to or worship this Deity, since they believe that this Deity would not hear or pay attention to them; if a Deist did believe those things, then they would accurately be called a Theist.

The Historic documents below shows America was founded upon Judeo-Christian values and principles, specifically upon the old and new testaments of the Bible. United States was founded overwhelmingly by Christians, and many who had as their main desired to make America “a praise and glory that men shall say of succeeding plantations [ie, the American colonies], ‘the Lord make it like that of New England.’ For we must consider that we shall be as a city upon a hill.”

1	1492 to 1502AD	Background: Columbus stated that he felt he was called by God to help bring the gospel of Christ to all peoples, and also to find gold to help fund the re-capture of Jerusalem (then currently held by the Ottoman Muslims). While he started off well in his navigation endeavor, Colombus fell victim to his pride; while he was a great navigator, he was a poor political administrator in the West Indies and things got out of control, so Colombus was re-called back to Spain by Ferdinand and Isabella, who felt the West Indies natives needed to be treated with respect. The Diary of Christopher Columbus: [pg 17-18] , “Whereas, Most Christian and Very Noble ... King and Queen of the Spains ... because of the report I have given to your Highness about the lands of India ... [and] how [the Grand Khan of India] asked for learned men in our Holy Faith [to come to him] ... You [King and Queen of Spain] thought of sending me, Christopher Colon [Colombus] to said region of India ... And you commanded that I should not go to the east ... but by the route to the West.” [pg 265] “... but with hope, he [Columbus] says, that those people [the Natives] are destined to be Christians because of their desire that they seem to have, and that the Sovereign of Castile [Ferdinand & Isabella], and because the Admiral [Columbus] considers the Indians as their subjects [part of Spain]. And so that they may serve him with love, he wants and tries to make everything pleasant for them.”	The Light and the Glory, Peter Marshall The Dario of Christopher Columbus https://www.amazon.com/gp/product/0806123842

First the law of nature was given to man in the estate of innocence; this of the Gospel in the estate of regeneracy. ... 2ndly, the former propounds one man to another, as the same flesh and image of God; this as a brother in Christ also, and in the communion of the same Spirit, and so teaches to put a difference between Christians and others. Do good to all, especially to the household of faith; upon this ground the Israelites were to putt a difference between the brethren of such as were strangers though not of the Canaanites.... 3rdly. The Law of nature would give no rules for dealing with enemies, for all are to be considered as friends in the state of innocence, but the Gospel commands love to an enemy. Proof. If thine Enemy hunger, feed him; Love your Enemies, doe good to them that hate you. Math. 5. 44. From hence we may frame these conclusions. 1. First of all, true Christians are of one body in Christ, 1 Cor. 12. 12. 13. 17. Ye are the body of Christ and members of their part. All the parts of this body being thus united are made so contiguous in a special relation as they must needs partake of each other's strength and infirmity; joy and sorrow, weale and woe.”	https://history.hanover.edu/texts/winthmod.html

On January 21, 1781, Philadelphia printer Robert Aitken petitioned Congress to officially sanction a publication of the Old and New Testament which he was preparing at his own expense. Congress "highly approve the pious and laudable undertaking of Mr. Aitken, as subservient to the interest of religion . . . in this country, and . . . they recommend this edition of the bible to the inhabitants of the United States." personal level, young males often had strong incentives to participate in military operations, as brave exploits were a source of great prestige in most Aboriginal cultures”....

“Revenge was a consistent motivating factor across North America, a factor that could lead to recurrent cycles of violence, often low intensity, which could last generations. Among the Iroquoian nations in the northeast, ‘mourning wars’ were practiced. Such conflicts involved raiding with the intent to capture prisoners, who were then adopted by bereaved families to replace family members who had died prematurely due to illness or war.”

“The torture was however highly ritualized and apparently its purpose was to calm the souls of people who had died violently. The prisoner was usually tied to a post and his fingernails were pulled out and various parts of his body were burned, often with a brand or red-hot metal tools. The idea was to prolong the agony for as long as possible so the captive could prove his courage and endurance. The torment usually ended at the stake, where the prisoner was finally immolated. In some cases, the victors ate the heart or part of the body of a prisoner they considered particularly courageous.”
